Early Detection Center for Heart Disease & Diabetes

Diplomate
American Board of Clinical Lipidology

President Elect
Midwest Lipid Association

Board Certified Family Physician

Tara Dall, MD graduated in the first class of Diplomates of the American Board of Clinical Lipidology; her clinic has been nationally recognized as the first fully certified Level II lipid clinic in the United States. She is also one of a handful of United States physicians treating pediatric dyslipidemia. She attended University of Wisconsin-Madison for undergraduate, medical school training, and family medicine residency.

Entering private practice in 2001, she formed the Cholesterol & Lifestyle Center in 2006 with the goal of aggressive detection and treatment of atherosclerotic cardiovascular disease. In 2008 she formed Advanced Lipidology, Early Detection Center for Heart Disease and Diabetes. She has a special interest in advanced lipid testing and CIMT technology, women's heart disease, polycystic ovarian syndrome and pediatric obesity. A published author in the field of lipidology, she is also involved in CIMT research in collaboration with University of Wisconsin-Madison, and is a Clinical Professor in the Department of Medicine for the Medical College of Wisconsin.

Because of her passion and expertise, Dr. Dall has been asked to lecture in every venue from hospital and medical school grand rounds to large-scale community events. She also has appeared on CNN Radio, Milwaukee's FOX News, WISN-TV, WTMJ-TV, Reach MD Satellite Radio, RadioHealth Journal and has been a keynote speaker for the American Heart Association GO RED for women community events.

Dr. Dall is an elected Executive Board member of the Midwest Lipid Association. Hobbies include competitive ballroom dancing and photography.
